

The Work of PPHN

We foster innovative and collaborative solutions that advance housing affordability, access, and production in the Pikes Peak region.

Research

Conduct original and local research,, leveraging the experiences of our residents. to create relevant and timely data that is understandable and convincing

Educate

Convert research into public materials that are engaging and persuasive. Share stories with community and media that build support for those needing housing within our region

Convene

Connect stakeholders throughout the housing sector to interpret data, collaborate, and find shared solutions for housing unaffordability

Advocate

Deploy all of our tools to inform local policymakers and community members on the need for housing affordability and production throughout the Pikes Peak region

Thought Leadership

Build community engagement a that inspire, invests, and equips our allies and housing champions with the skills for housing advocacy
